About Andy and his role

What does your role as a Games Development Coordinator involve day to day?

Coaching in both primary and post primary schools, working with club coaches within my region, supporting the hurling development squads, go games hurling fixtures coordinator and primary school hurling blitzs.

How do you support clubs and coaches in your area?

Through coach education with the foundation and award 1 courses, informal coaching courses working on particular needs to coaches, one on one coaching with coaches.

What's one initiative or programme you've helped deliver that you're particularly proud of?

The re introduction of Monster blitzs in U7/U9 hurling go games

What do you think are the biggest challenges in games development at local level?

Buy in from clubs and coaches in initiatives and the understanding there is no quick fixes everything takes time and effort.

What's your coaching or development philosophy?

No one gets left behind take your time to develop all players and youll see the rewards in later years.

How do you measure success in your role?

Numbers game the more kids hurling the better and the standards rise.

What do you enjoy most about working in GAA games development?

Seeing players develop especially through development squads and out coaching in the lashings of rain, unbelievable like you get that no where.

What's one piece of advice you'd give to young coaches or volunteers starting out?

Just enjoy it have the craic with who ever your coaching while developing the skills of the game, no one likes a grumpy coach.
